Formatting Your Paper Using American Psychological Association Style

Your Name

Central Penn College
Abstract

Check with your professor to find out if an abstract is required for your assignment. If required, the abstract should be the second page after the title page, and should contain a brief overview of your paper. The abstract should contain about 100 to 150 words, and should include your main ideas. Abstracts often include a few keywords that could be used when searching in a database or search engine to locate the published documents. Check with your professor to find out if keywords should be included. Notice that the first line of the abstract is not indented, but the keywords are. This is the proper way to format the abstract. This abstract contains 126 words, so now you can see what 100-150 words looks like.
